Christian Life Community	Alexander Garoutte	agaroutt@lion.lmu.edu	CLC's mission is to help one another discovering and living out our personal vocations. We strive to cultivate a way of life that integrates the values of community, spirituality, and mission. In other words, we strive to foster trusting relationships, find God in all things, and discover our calling in life. Our secret method is "cp" (cura personalis, to care and empower). / We envision a solid formation process that challenges all CLC members to live out CLC's mission and way of life. The formation process consists of 3 growing phases: supporting faith sharing discernment. / What does it mean to be a CLC? It means to grow toward discovering our personal vocations.
Hillel	Sadie Misle	lmuhillel@gmail.com	Vision / / LMU Student Hillel is a space for all students on campus to participate in Jewish learning and activities, which provides opportunities to foster and support the Jewish community. While creating a community in which Jewish students can celebrate their Jewish identity, LMU student Hillel also seeks to build bridges between all faith-based groups at LMU. LMU student Hillel's reach extends beyond the campus, as it hopes to better the world through social justice work. / / Mission: / LMU's student Hillel is committed to being an active part of LMU's diverse faith-based community and to increase its presence on campus. It seeks to create an open environment for discussing aspects of the Jewish faith among peers, and to build an environment excited to engage together in learning, social activities, social justice work and prayer. Students who engage with Hillel have an opportunity to explore their identity, and broaden their opinions about themselves, their community and the world.
Late Night	Hilary Scheppers	hscheppe@lion.lmu.edu	The mission of Late Night is to engage students in conversation about leading meaningful and intentional lives through

The Station	Edward Bramanti	edward@bramanti.org	Non-denominational Christian group on the LMU campus. We meet for weekly bible study and worship, and also offer small groups, retreats, service projects, and fun connecting events. / / We want to help students KNOW God's love and plan for their lives , to GROW and be transformed by a relationship with Christ, and to GO out into the campus and world to share that good news. / / Everyone is welcome, no matter what you believe or where you're from!
