Getting to Know Our First Year Lions: Results from the 2008 CIRP Freshman Survey

Wednesday, March 25, 2009 &
Thursday, March 26, 2009
3:15pm - 4:15pm
CTE (University Hall 3030)

The CIRP Freshman Survey is one of the most comprehensive surveys of first-year college students in the nation. It provides us with a portrait of our entering class, highlighting their background, opinions, and expectations of college life. In short, it's a snapshot into the lives of our unique and diverse first-year lions.

Please join us as we get to know the latest addition to our undergraduate community with a summary of the 2008 CIRP Freshman Survey data.
