Center for Teaching Excellence
Scholarship of Teaching and Learning Showcase Week 2010

Tuesday, September 28 – Friday, October 1

Keynote Address
“Creating a "Community of Learning" in the Classroom: One Scholar's Journey in the Scholarship of Teaching & Learning”
Roberto L. Corrada, J.D.,
Modern Learning Chair and Professor of Law,
University of Denver Sturm College of Law

Tuesday, September 28
from 12:15 to 1:15pm
Center for Teaching Excellence UNH 3030

Poster Session and Reception
LMU Faculty SoTL Projects and Summer Assessment Workshop Participants
Tuesday, September 28
from 3:00 to 5:00pm
Third floor skyway outside CTE and Marymount Institute Lounge

Workshop
“The Critical Elements of Effective Collaborative Learning: Foundation and Application”
Roberto Corrada, J.D.

Wednesday, September 29
Workshop from 12:00 to 1:00pm
Center for Teaching Excellence UNH 3030

Roundtable Discussion
“SoTL and the Institution: What is Valued and What is Valuable?”

Thursday, September 30
from 12:15 to 1:15pm
Center for Teaching Excellence UNH 3030

LMU’s Newest Carnegie Scholar Presents her SoTL Research
“Will Dance Movement Analysis + Software = 3D Animation Skills?”
Adriana Jaroszewicz, Animation

Friday, October 1
from 12:00 to 1:00pm
Collins Faculty Center

To RSVP for events email teachers@lmu.edu or call 310.338.5866
More information is available online at http://www.lmu.edu/cte
The Center for Teaching Excellence at Loyola Marymount University will host the 4th annual Scholarship of Teaching and Learning (SoTL) Showcase Week. This series of events highlights SoTL connections to LMU’s mission, celebrates the culmination of LMU’s work as coordinating institution for the Carnegie Affiliates program, and explores synergies with course design, team-based learning, and student outcomes assessment.

Roberto L. Corrada, J.D., Modern Learning Chair and Professor of Law at University of Denver Sturm College of Law will give the keynote address, “Creating a "Community of Learning" in the Classroom: One Scholar's Journey in the Scholarship of Teaching & Learning” on Tuesday, September 28th at 12:15PM.

A celebration of the culmination of LMU’s leadership role in the Carnegie Academy for the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning (CASTL) Affiliates program will take place at a Tuesday afternoon reception from 3 to 5PM, along with a poster session that will display the SoTL work of LMU faculty and the assessment plans that were developed by departments that participated in the 2010 Summer Assessment Workshops.

Keynote speaker Roberto Corrada will also offer a workshop, “The Critical Elements of Effective Collaborative Learning: Foundation and Application,” Wednesday, September 29, at 12:00pm in the Center for Teaching Excellence, University Hall Room 3030.

On Thursday, September 30, 2010 at 12:15PM CTE will host a roundtable discussion to explore “SoTL and the Institution: What is Valued and what is Valuable?”

Friday, October 1, 2010 at 12:00PM LMU’s newest Carnegie Scholar and SoTL grant winner Adriana Jaroszewicz, Assistant Professor of Animation, will speak about her SoTL research at the Friday Faculty Colloquium Series in the Collins Center. The title of the session is “Will Dance Movement Analysis + Software = 3D Animation Skills?”

To RSVP for any of the week’s events email teachers@lmu.edu

---

1 Scholarship of Teaching and Learning (SoTL) is the intellectual work that faculty do when they apply their disciplinary knowledge to investigate questions about teaching and learning, draw conclusions based on evidence provided by students, submit those conclusions to peer review and make them available for others in the academy to build upon. SoTL as a form of scholarship involves elements of discovery, integration and application, and is evaluated by the same criteria as traditional scholarship of discovery.